

WIN A WEX

A Day in the Life at AO.com

Your day in the life experience at AO will be based loosely on the sites which you saw in our intro video. You'll spend the day talking to professionals from all areas of the business to give you some insight into how we relentlessly work together to have the happiest customers. You'll get the chance to speak to anyone from Digital Marketing professionals; Senior Managers in our Logistics depots through to customer service agents working from home. We will create a day which is specific to your career interests and includes virtual tours where possible, video chats and online activities.

Job roles include:

Logistics Apprentice – understanding what our logistics apprentices do, speaking to all of the different departments they experience from project management to warehouse, speaking to our learning providers Mantra Academy, and hearing a bit from our customers on why logistics has been so very important especially during the Covid 19 crisis. Great if you're a natural leader and a hands-on problem solver.

IT systems and engineering- speaking to the many different teams with many different skills sets which are responsible for all of our back end processes to keep the business moving, from developing new apps for our customers to helping manage our stock control system. Good if you like coding, software or computer engineering and computer science.

Brand and Marketing- speak to professionals who get to manage our external brand; how we are perceived by our customers and potential job applicants. Also people who manage our internal brand and employee experience. If you have a creative brain and really understand people then you'll love this option!

Projects and delivery- these are the creators, the people who prioritise our "to do" list and ensure that what we want to happen actually happens. They manage everything from implementing new systems such as rolling out our voice picking technology in Crewe, to giving our ao.com website a complete overhaul. Great if you enjoy seeing the results of your hard work and you are organised and efficient.
