WIN a WEX!

Two Virtual Projects with RedShift Online

RedShift Online is a Community Podcast Network based in Nantwich. We train people from all walks of life to produce and present their own podcast.

Since lock down all our training has been online and we have two virtual projects for you to apply for:

Project 1
a. Write a summary document to describe a brilliant podcast idea for 14 – 18 year olds detailing examples of regular features, potential guests and theme for the first four episodes. The winning entry will be invited to take on our online training to record and launch your first four episodes.

b. Record a "Podcast Header" introducing yourself and your podcast. This must be no more than 15 seconds long and can be recorded on your phone. This can be just spoken word – if you win, we will teach you to put music to it and make it into a header.

Project 2
If you are more interested in production rather than presenting, then this one is for you: Record and produce a "Network Ident" that could be used across all the RedShift Community Network podcasts. This ident must be no more than 15 seconds long and include the phrase "you are listening to the RedShift Community Podcast Network". You can add (copyright free) music but you must be able to prove where the music has come from. We recommend using www.purple-planet.com/

Send your applications to hello@redshiftonline.org

Find out more about the organisation here: www.redshiftonline.org

European Union
European Social Fund